
Summary

Confidence development during the process of physical education

Results of research on a problem of confidence development among senior pre-school children during the process of physical education are being offered in the article. Its stages division is being shown as well as the opportunity of verbal forms usage for confidence and adequate self-esteem development while carrying out physical exercises.

Keywords: confidence, self-esteem, formula of self-suggestion, temperament, physical exercises, motion activity.

Chernobay Tatiana Aleksandrovna – senior lecturer at Pre-school and Primary School Education of Institute of Omsk State Education Development, Omsk.

Immanent open education in pre-school education facility

Modern immanent open education should ensure individual educational trajectory. The aim of the following article is to present innovative approach towards subject-developing system creation in pre-school establishment, aiming towards pupils' individual educational trajectory.

Keywords: pre-school establishment, "education-in-life", individual educational trajectory, educational reflex, subject-developing environment and means of its creation.

Peretyagina Nadezhda Nikolaevna – Candidate of Pedagogy, senior lecturer at Economy and Management Department, researcher at Humanities and Social-Economical Disciplines of Chelyabinsk State Pedagogical University, Miass branch, Miass, Chelyabinsk region.

"Future first-years school" as a mean of parents' competence increase

The problem of modern parents competence in children upbringing is being outlined in the article and means of its resolving are being offered. Forms of working with parents are being listed. Detailed description of lecture on "Hello, book! How to impart child's taste towards reading" topic is being given.

Keywords: psycho-pedagogical competence, parents competence, "Future first-years school", reading skills, reading book choice.

Dedova Olga Yuriyevna – senior researcher at Civilian Person Becoming, senior tutor at Primary Education Department of Nizhniy Novgorod Institute of Education Development, Nizhniy Novgorod.

Communicative skills development among junior schoolchildren forming in teaching-upbringing activity

Content of "junior schoolchildren communicative abilities" is being considered in the article. Age features of junior schoolchildren as a mean of social adaptation, as well as their studying activity, are being revealed.

Keywords: junior schoolchild, communicative abilities, social adaptation, studying activity, social speechcraft, play methods.

Zajtseva Kseniya Pavlovna – assistant at Psycho-Pedagogical Disciplines Department of Magnitogorsk State University, Magnitogorsk, Chelyabinsk region.

Post-diploma education and teacher's readiness towards development of pre-schoolers by means of music

Post-diploma education as a condition of teacher's readiness development towards creative skills and experience development of pre-schoolers by means of music is being considered in the article. Goals and objectives of qualification increase and teaching staff retraining in barriers of pre-school education are being actualized. Forms and methods of teachers' education in borders of credit-module system of qualification increase realization are being partially reflected in the article.

Keywords: post-diploma education, forms and methods of adults educating, credit-module education system, musical education.

Sitnikova Oksana Vladimirovna – senior tutor at Pre-school Education Department of North Kavkaz Institute of Education Department Workers Qualification Increase, Stavropol.

Features of carrying out a Music lesson featuring ethnocultural components

Pedagogical terms of carrying out a Music lesson featuring ethnocultural components (which assumes schoolers' communion towards native musical culture and culture of other region's, country, world folk, upbringing of cultural pluralism, tolerance, ethnomusical culture and ethnomusical competence forming) are being considered in the article. Script of carrying out a Music lesson in 4th grade is being offered.

Keywords: music lesson featuring ethnocultural component, ethnomusical culture, ethnomusical research and practical activity, ditty as a genre of folk music.

Karpushina Larisa Pavlovna – Candidate of Pedagogy, senior lecturer at Choral Conducting, Singing and Music Tutoring Methods Department of Mordovia State Pedagogical Institute in the name of M.E. Yevseyev, Saransk, Mordovia Republic.

Draft method in economical upbringing forming of 6–10 year old children

Results of present analysis on situation in tutoring and upbringing of Economy to children are being offered in the article. Significance and necessity of economical knowledge for successful socialization and active adaptation of a younger generation is being traced. Author's program for Economy tutoring to senior pre-school age and junior school age children is being offered.

Keywords: economic civility, succession, draft method.

Lobanova Margarita Anatoliyevna – tutor of additional education at school № 6, Smolensk.

Methodical model of vocabulary studying based on local lore material

The article contains theoretical data and practical material for working on local lore on Russian language lessons during "Vocabulary" theme studying. New types of tasks are offered for further analysis on stylistic function of dialect words in poetic texts and such.

Keywords: local lore, schooler's moral upbringing, toponomy, dialect words, regional component, stylistic text analysis.

Saltanova Irina Arkadiyevna – teacher of Russian language and Literature at "Moscow Circus Boarding school № 15 for Orphans and Children left without parental care in the name of Yuri Nikulin", Moscow.